Describe a moment in your worshipping community's recent ministry which you recognize as one of success and fulfillment.

At our recent annual meeting with the election of 6 new vestry member, we experienced an infusion of energy. The meeting was open, respectful, and filled with enthusiasm for the coming year.

How are you preparing yourselves for the Church of the future?

Our search committee is working diligently to find out new priest. During this time we are working to develop new leadership within the congregation.

Please provide words describing the gifts and skills essential to the future leaders of your worshipping community.

We are training additional lay people for leadership position in service. The vestry have chosen committee leaders and those people will form committees from congregation members.

As a worshipping community, how do you care for your spiritual, emotional and physical well-being?

We're a caring community, communicating the needs of our member and helping each other. We are geographically-wide community, much of this communication occurs during post-service coffee time.

How do you engage in pastoral care for those beyond your worshipping community?

We support Family Promise, an organization that seeks to help homeless families. We do this through financial support, and pre-covid, through hosting families overnight at our church.

Describe your worshipping community's involvement in either the wider Church or geographical region.

Our church geographic area covers a wide area, Westport-Grayland and to Ocean Shores. We support outreach programs. We offer scholarships for our youth to attend Camp Huston and youth programs. Our Pre-Covid vacation bible school is offered to the community.

Tell about a ministry that your worshipping community has initiated in the past five years. Who can be contacted about this?

We helped to initiate Family Promise. Phil MacNealy is out contact.

What is your practice of stewardship and how does it shape the life of your worshipping community?

Our congregation has always been generous, both with special projects, such as capital campaigns for our building improvements, and though their annual pledges. Members have been generous as well in sharing their time and talents.

What is your worshipping community's experience of conflict? And how have you addressed it?

Our parish has experiences conflict relating to an overwhelming homeless population in our community. Since the church is in the downtown area this has impacted us directly. Communication among member allowed us to draw appropriate boundaries and resulted in securing the building.

What is your experience leading/addressing change in the church? When has it gone well? When has it gone poorly? And what did you learn?

When change occurs we try to educate church members prior to initiating change. That way issues can be addressed before hand.

These years of the pandemic have given us time to re-examine our faith formation practices for the youth of our congregation. WE are moving toward a more inclusive program for our youth. Josh has given Acolyte training for Sunday worship. Suzanne has attended several Diocesan zoom training for Children and family worship and has collaborated with St. Timothy for Messy Church. There are several activities that have been explored as avenues including Holy Hikes.
